Note 1

By winning the state championship, Albuquerque Indian School earned a trip to the National tournament in Chicago. Their first game was against Carr Creek, Kentucky, the eventual National Champion. The Braves lost to Carr Creek 32-16, after being tied at half. Albuquerque Indian School lost its game in the consolation round to Chicago's Englewood High 29-22.

History of School by Steve Flores

In the 1880's Albuquerque Indian School (AIS) was founded when it took over educating Indian children from the Menaul School. Albuquerque became the center of education for Native Americans. Pueblo Apache, and Navajo Indians were educated there for over a century.

In 1928, AIS became a 12 grade school, as well as a boarding school. In 1930, AIS hit its peak enrollment, with over 1,400 students. In the 1950's the U.S. Government began sending Native Americans to public schools. Enrollment began to decrease. In 1979, Albuquerque Indian School moved into the facilities of Santa Fe Indian School and closed the Albuquerque campus.
